

Dungeons and Dragons: Checkpoint final

i think we are ready to go fight some dragons , where do we have to go?

We don't actually know. We've heard rumors of dragon attacks in the nearby town, but that's about it."

ok , how to we get there

"We can try walking or take your horses if you like?"

we gonna find dragons there right, i hope

"I'm not sure! There could be anywhere!"

ok , we are at the the town , where is the dragon

"There were two places mentioned so far: Emon and Whitestone."

these place are where we could find dragons?

"According to what people told me-- yeah."

ok , we are at emon , is there a dragon around here

"Nope, this area hasn't been hit by any dragon attacks yet according to the scouts I sent out earlier today. Nothing reported along these parts."

oh god , i think we have to go to the whitestone then

"Well, let's head towards WhiteStone."

ok , we are at whitestone , now can we look for dragons

"Yeah. Yeah, okay, apparently they're headed south as well."

ok we are at south, should be some dragons here hmmm

"You would think yes, because everything says 'head south' which means probably no, unfortunately."

where can we look for them then

"They seem to always come from the north side of the mountain range, so maybe we'll want to start on the other side, near Whitestone itself? So when they make their way down into the valley, we will hopefully see signs before they reach us."

wait , i do see a flying creature , is that it ??

"Oh, that one looks really big!"

yeah its big . what is it tho

"It seems to be heading further west though."

is it dragons

"Not yet. No, I mean, who knows?! (laughs) But it's definitely going somewhere else; possibly our direction."

Say something
